

Salem State University School of Social Work
List of 2010-2011 MSW Field Education Learning Centers

Please note that not all field education learning centers are available each year. In addition, some settings have restrictions, e.g. for concentration year students only or for academic year placements only. Listed below are currently approved field education learning centers including those where students are placed during the 2010-2011 academic year. For a complete listing of field learning centers, refer to web site data base at salemstate.edu/msw, where you can search by the concentration area, the nature of the agency setting and the population served.
