LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE SPRING 2012

Leadership Lessons Learned from your Childhood

Campus Center Programs
Division of Student Life

Leadership Institute

The leadership institute is an opportunity for student leaders to study the dynamics of leadership in a structured and focused learning environment. Participants will attend a variety of seminars focused on leadership skills. Through these programs students will be able to examine their own skills and leadership style.

In order to successfully complete the institute, students must attend the majority of the sessions. Graduates of the institute will receive an award in recognition of their commitment to developing their own leadership skills and abilities.

Theories taken from Toy Box Leadership by Ron Hunter Jr.

Seminar Schedule

Does the Mold Make the Man/Woman?
Thursday, February 23, 2012
Ellison Campus Center, MLK room, 5 pm dinner included

This session will discuss how we learned about the importance of mentoring while playing with Play-Doh. During this session be prepared to be creative and learn how the people around you shape the leader you can become.

Can One Person Change the World?
Thursday, March 1, 2012
Ellison Campus Center, MLK room, 5 pm dinner included

During this session we will be discussing the childhood book Harold and the Purple Crayon and how it relates to creativity, motivation and vision, all three are important in being a successful leader.

Making Connections
Thursday, March 8, 2012
Ellison Campus Center, MLK room, 5 pm dinner included

This session will all be based around two of our favorite childhood toys, LEGOs and Mr. Potato Head. These two toys taught us that building leaders = building relationships and building relationships = being able to communicate.

Respect for Others, Acceptance and Diversity

Thursday, March 22, 2012
Ellison Campus Center, MLK room, 5 pm dinner included

Have you ever heard of the story The Sneetches by Dr. Seuss? This book teaches a child a lot about acceptance and diversity. We will discuss this book and how you can use these lessons in your everyday life.

Ying and Yang
Thursday, April 5, 2012
Ellison Campus Center, MLK room, 5 pm dinner included

Two toys that taught us a lot about being a successful leader and how to pull your organization in the right direction are the Little Green Army Men and the Slinky Dog. This session will teach you about the push and pull of leading your troops.

Making the Right Turn, Ethics
Thursday, April 19, 2012
Ellison Campus Center, MLK room, 5 pm dinner included

The rubik's cube taught us a lot about making the right decisions. As a leader you will be faced with tough decisions each day. It is how you make these choices that will impact you as a leader.

What will you gain from the Leadership Institute?

- Take part in an opportunity to do a volunteer project for the community
- Sharpen your leadership skills
- Meet other student leaders
- Have some fun
