What made you choose Salem State?

After beginning my academic career at a community college and taking a gap year when the pandemic hit, I took some time to reevaluate what I wanted to get out of my education and career readiness. I remember having toured Salem State during my senior year of high school and fell in love with the campus. I took the leap of faith and applied again; the rest is history!

What are three words you would use to describe the Viking Community?

Welcoming—From the start, I have felt nothing but connected and wanted the communities I've surrounded myself with. Additionally, the support I have received from staff and peers has been incredible.

Resilient—The Viking community comes from all walks of life, and in my time on campus, I have seen how strong our community is through hardship and struggle.

Vibrant—Salem State has such a diverse and supportive community of members that I hope everyone can access and maintain throughout their time here.

What is one thing you think a prospective student should know about Salem State?

Learn about and use your resources here on campus! Learn about how offices and places on campus can help you. The Student Navigation Center, The Center for Justice and Liberation, the library, and Trio Support Services have been a huge help to me during my time here.

What have you done at SSU that you are most proud of?

I enjoy working with prospective students and their families to ensure that they know they'll be getting the most out of their education and beyond while attending Salem State. It makes me feel good knowing students and their families come back multiple times throughout the year to visit or celebrate themselves!

How would you describe the professors at SSU?

The professors here at Salem State have been some of the most supportive teachers I've ever had. They care for your well-being and are interested in hearing about your goals and what sparks your interest outside of being a student!

What has been your favorite class to take?

Any of the courses I've taken with Professor Murphy as part of the Justice in Education concentration! She creates such a welcoming and fun space in her classes, and she celebrates students' accomplishments with her horse, Gus.

What is your favorite place on campus?

The Ellison Campus Center is the hub of student life, so something is always going on. More importantly, it's home to the Center for Justice and Liberation and the student organization offices. I love getting to engage with my fellow student leaders, sitting in The Alliance office during my office hours and welcoming students into a safe space with a variety of resources and swag!

What is your favorite memory at SSU?

My favorite memory is the school's annual Winter Oasis, which occurs towards the end of the Fall semester. Light-up swings, bonfires, hot chocolate and all your friends gathered around before winter break? What's better than that?!

Do you live in a residence hall? What has been your favorite part about living on campus?

Having lived in 3 out of the 5 resident halls, I have gained a sense of community and maintained relationships with multiple residents and RAs. Doing so has also opened many opportunities for me.

How do you feel SSU has helped you get career-ready?

Getting to be a part of Salem State's Emerging Scholars of Color Program has really made an impact on me and my career prep over the last few months. I have discovered more about being an educator and advocate; there are far more opportunities than just being in a classroom!
